Radical Statistics Group - Who we are

The RSG was formed in 1975 by researchers and statisticians with a common concern about the political implications of their work and an awareness of the actual and potential misuse of statistics. The RSG is independent of any other organisation. Members are 'radical' in being committed to helping build a more free, democratic and egalitarian society. Our particular concerns are:

- * The mystifying use of technical language to disguise social problems as technical ones
- * The lack of control by the community over the aims of statistical investigations, the way these are conducted and the use of the information produced
- * The power structures within which statistical and research workers are employed and which control the work and how it is used
- * The fragmentation of social problems into specialist fields, obscuring connectedness

How to subscribe

Radical Statistics is usually produced three times a year and is available from Radical Statistics, 66 Stumperlowe, Park Road, Sheffield, S10 3QP. Annual rates are £3 (unwaged), £5 (low-waged), £12 (waged and overseas) and £20 (institutions).

How we are organised

The 'Troika', which handles the small amount of administrative work of RSG, is elected at each AGM. The editorship of Radical Statistics rotates. Much of the work of the RSG is done in sub-groups, whose membership is open to all; if you wish to be involved, contact the relevant co-ordinator. An e-mail list can be found at: <http://www.jiscmail.ac.uk/lists/radstats.html>

Contributions to Radical Statistics

All readers are invited to make contributions, which may be brief notices, detailed articles, letters or reviews. Detailed articles should normally be between 4,000 and 5,000 words in length. Contributions should be sent to the editor, preferably via e-mail attachment (a rich text format file) or by post on a CD if possible, using Wordperfect, Microsoft Word, or ASCII text but including a printed version with full contact details. Ideally use 1" margins, Bookman Old Style 13 pt for text, 18 pt bold for subheadings, 18 pt italics for your name, and 24 pt bold for the title. Graphs, charts and diagrams should be clearly printed and their position in the article should be indicated. The Harvard system should be used for referencing. Articles will be subject to minimal editorial changes and will usually appear in the next Issue after receipt. If you have any queries, please contact the editor.

Refereed articles

If you wish to have your article refereed before publication, please state this clearly and send it via e-mail attachment if possible (as a rich text format file). Your article will be read for clarity and relevance to the concerns of Radical Statistics; amendments to improve the article may be required by the editors before publication as a refereed article.
