

RADICAL STATISTICS 8

A Statistician

A Prince, who is interested in Statistics...

2001-1-8

This issued prepared by
Jeff Evans and John Bibby

Editors of next issues

RS9 (Feb '77) Lee Harvey, Commerce Centre,
 ** COPY BY City of Birmingham Polytechnic
 11 FEB.** Birmingham B4 7HA (021-359-6851)

RS10 (May '77) Roy Carr-Hill, 16 Hameau,
 Michel Ange, PARIS

CONTENTS	PAGE NO.
A.G.M.	1
Health Group, by Alison Macfarlane.	2
The Introduction of Tests of Significance in Sociology, by Liz Atkins.	3
Statistics and Ideology, by Donald Mackenzie.	4
The Inverse Ratio Law of Forecasting, by John Rowan.	8
Must Models Mystify?, by John Bibby.	10
Significance Tests, by Bob Gilchrist and David Jarrett.	12
Who are These Radical Statisticians?, by Nic Wright.	19
Miscellanea.	19
Cover Design, by Zorina Bibby.

A.G.M. SATURDAY-SUNDAY 5th-6th MARCH 1977

We have booked the Notting Dale Studies Centre for an all-day A.G.M. on 5th March. We will probably have a social do on the Friday evening. Further details will be set in the next newsletter.

People from out of town who want to say at Notting Dale should let Lee Harvey know as soon as possible (address on front cover) - cost is about £1.

The "caretaker committee" elected at last year's meeting (Liz Atkins, Jeff Evans, John Irvine, Ian Plewis, Stephen Shenfield) has suggested the following structure for the A.G.M.

Morning - Colloquium or workshop(s).
 Afternoon - business meeting (including discussion of the draft constitution).
 Sunday - informal workshops and discussions.

We have suggested the Saturday morning session in order to give a stimulating focus to the discussions, besides the business meeting. The afternoon session might discuss, among other things, recent developments in the Group's activities, especially publications (see the Health Subgroup's article elsewhere in this issue). And the Sunday sessions would give people the chance to meet informally, in particular to discuss practical proposals such as the Worker's Handbook, which was first mentioned to the Group at last year's A.G.M.

We might also consider the following subjects for discussion.

1. Mechanics of pamphlet production.
2. The need for a proper bank account ("every time I pay in cheques for pamphlet in a Coop I get a lecture on how our account is meant to be a personal one").
3. Intellectual topics - thoughts may be postponed owing to our present preoccupation with items 1 & 2!
4. Reports of sub-groups.